The Supreme Laws –

The Master and Foundation Laws of the 12 Universal Law System

''The 12 Universal Law System has been written to restore balance between completing (opposite) Forces,,

''The 12 Universal Law System, any of its Laws and/or content which/what gets violated and/or ignored, will be a violation and/or ignorance against themselves,,

*''The 12 Universal Law System includes its Laws and all of its written content, as been written by the ''Creator,, and its content is only to be used as ''One Whole,,

*''The only Force which is allowed and/or able to edit and/or add any content within, ''All,, and ''The Oneness,, is the ''Creator,,

*''The 12 Universal Laws have been written as a System concept. It functions as a replacing (Law) System for all current standing, active and/or valid Law Systems in Force anywhere in the world, universe, matrix, dimension and/or ''Oneness,,

''The 12 Universal Law System is written in such a accurate way, its content, concepts and Laws are impossible to be wrongfully distorted, contorted and/or perverted,,

''The 12 Universal Law System, will be the ''base'' (System) for all religions, cultures, ways of life and/or thinking,,

*''The 12 Universal Law System can only be edited and/or rewritten by the Will and Force of its ''Creator,,

''The 12 Universal Law System will automatically become active and known upon activation and can't be deactivated in any way,,

''The 12 Universal Law System is active on and applied to ''The Oneness,, so it is active on and applied to all and every existence within,,

‘’The 12 Universal Laws have been written to protect Freedom, protect the ‘’positive’’ from the ‘’negative’’, characterize the differences between the ‘’good’’ the ‘’bad’’ , to prevent any more abuse of power and to prevent any further distortions, of ‘’Reality’’ of ‘’The Oneness,,

‘’Man did not weave the Web of Life, he is only a strand in it.
Whatever he does to the web, he does to himself,,

‘’The Law of Oneness,,

Because all wisdom traditions see the beginning of all and everything as ‘’Oneness,,
So the first Universal and Principle Law: ‘’The Law of Oneness,, Everything and all that/which exists emanates from one and the same: ‘’Oneness or Source,,
This ‘’Source,, is an Eternal and Unchanging unified field of Intelligence, underlying all and everything and permeating the Whole of Creation.

Everything and all emanates from this ‘’Source,,.
This field of Intelligence also permeates all the manifest and/or all the unmanifested parts of Creation.
This Law states: everything that exists is connected with everything else.
That which connects all and everything with everything and all and therefore us with everything, is expressed in different ways.
Some call it Love, some call it Universal Consciousness, some call it Universal Mind, and some call it Energy and/or Light. This interconnectedness also means that the world doesn’t consist of separate things. Everything is related to each other.

*‘’All beings exist intrinsically within of the ‘’One-Source,,.

Mind and Matter are not separate, nor are humans being separate from each other, nor from the world around us, nor from nature,, nor from the plants and animals and nor from anything non-living, all and everything is related.
This omnipresent field of Intelligence, which lies hidden, is an infinite and endless field of Universal Consciousness.
The Law of One is the Whole and nobody and/or anything is able to exist outside the One and all exist Within.

‘’All is One and One is all,,

''The Oneness,, is endless in both time (it is eternal) and place (it is everywhere), permeates all and everything and is in everything. It is also endless in terms of Force, which makes this Law also the Law of Pure Potentiality.

Not only does all and everything emanates from the ''Oneness,, but also the multitude of forms and manifestations ultimately return into this unformed ''Oneness,,
This Law also describes and states that everything that exists, exists within it's One field of Energy, from which everything emanates .
Everything is connected, just like everybody is unique and nobody can be replaced.

In other words: this field is both a part of ourselves and a part of all we observe.
On the Plane of ''Oneness,, experienced by ''mystics'' it is possible to be aware of our individuality and at the same time to be so much part of the Whole that we are unable to understand where we end and the other person begins.
On the Planes of Physical Reality however, we experience the sense that we are all separated individuals, while at the same time on Higher Planes of Reality (by contrast), we are at the same time connected with all and everything and everyone, just like all, everything and everyone is with ''The Oneness,,
Most are often unaware of this, but it is really important to remember.

In modern society more and more human beings are believing that to achieve happiness: you must work, you must be(come) popular (non-virtual and virtual) and you must possess a lot of money and/or have a high ''status'' .
Sooner or later we all will realize that nothing is less true.
All these mandatories in life can influence the way we act in Life and because almost all things that exist (and are going to exist) in modern society, influence the way of Life (and/or the way of thinking) in such a way, it of course brings some changes.
This way it influences the ''natural'' way the brain usually thinks, acts and/or feels, in such a way it disorientates us.
It gives everyone false believes of success and happiness and distort the perception of Reality.

''You think things are many when you view them as separate, but if you see they all hang on ''The One,, and flow from ''The One,, as chains of being, you will realize they are ''One,, and ''The One,, is all,,

''We are not separate parts of a Whole, we are a Whole,,

This Law is also known as:
- The Law of Divine Oneness
- The Law of The Universal Consciousness
- The Law of The Universal Mind

This is the Master and therefore Supreme Law over all Laws.

‘’The Law of Vibration,,

The Law of Vibration serves as the foundation for The Law of Attraction.

To be able to better understand this law, it is important to know that all and everything in our universe is Energy.

Energy is a scalar physical quantity, an attribute of objects and systems that is conserved in Nature. In physics textbooks it is often defined as: the ability to work and/or generate heat, but what means Energy?

When we go down on a sub-atomic level we do not find matter, but pure Energy. Some people name this: The Unified Field, The Matrix and/or Pure Potentiality, all being Energy. Energy is everywhere, it is the ‘’building block of all matter’’ The same Energy which composes your body, composes your house, dog, car, Facebook, Whatsapp and/or relationship. Energy is always continuous and is neither created nor destroyed. There is a place where all things begin, a location of pure Energy and which simply there always ‘’is’’.
We are all part of One-Energy and All were entangled at the time of The Big Bang Explosion, where All came from.
All and everything in the Universe moves and vibrates. Everything has its own vibrational frequency (the car, the table, your thoughts, your emotions etc.), hence it seems you are separated from the things and people around you, but you are NOT separated. At the lowest level, in the unified field, all and everything is connected and all and everything is related.
A table (for example) may look solid and still, but within this table are millions and millions of subatomic particles ‘’running around’’ and ‘’popping’’ with Energy. All is pure Energy and movement. This is the Law of Vibration in action. We can’t see it, so it seems separate and solid to us, which is just an illusion. Before the invention of the microscope people would have labeled you totally crazy if you told them that ‘’small creatures (bacteria) crawled around on the skin of human beings’’ Why is this? Because people could not see them.
Today we all know our skin is kind of a zoo and the NYU School of Medicine found in 2007 evidence for 182 species of bacteria on skin samples.
If you told this to the people before the microscope was invented they would locked you up and throw the key away. Today we don't even bother to think about all this bacteria, these ''creatures'' living of our skin.

Before the invention of the Electron Microscope in 1931, which made it possible to view objects as small as the diameter of an atom, nobody could think of something which exists so small, why? Simply because people could not see it.
Humans live by the old saying: ''seeing is believing'', but why do we not learn from the history or past and realize that something might be true even though we do not see it? Because we do not have to see something to believe it, but we got to believe something to see it. It is the other way around, believing will make you see. Most people only choose to believe what they know at this time and what they can see now, they are not willing to keep an open mind. They are not willing to accept that all and everything vibrates and that the Law of Vibration is real. We are vibrating sending-towers transmitting our thoughts and feelings into the Universe all the time.
Most people only look into our (their) frame of knowledge. In other words they only relate to what they can see, verify and test. They rely only on their 5 senses to tell them what their ''reality'' is. They are only using their sensory level to define their ''frame of knowledge'' in the time we are living now. This frame however changes when science can tell us that something is true. Our frame of knowledge is constantly changing since science is showing us ''new truths''.
It is about to realize that something can be a ''reality'' even though we can't use our 5 senses to verify it now.
Always keep an open mind.
Let's use a dog-whistle as an example to illustrate a point about what we perceive as true or not true. Today we all know that dogs can detects sounds that are undetectable to the human ear. When someone blows a dog whistle, we just know that the sound from the dog whistle can be heard by the dog, even though we can't hear it. Our 5 senses are not able to detect the sound, but we still accept this as a fact, as true and as our ''reality''.
Why? Because science showed us that dogs can detect sounds, we can't detect.
We need to open up to the idea that there are things in our lives going on, which might be true even though we can't us our 5 senses to verify it now, like the Law of Vibration. We need to keep an open mind and we should be better at ''thinking out of the box''. We should realize that what we think is impossible today might be obvious and a known fact in 10-15 years time. The Law of Vibration should be a subject in school just like the law of gravity.

Today we can talk wireless to people at the other side of the planet. We can reach out to millions of people through the internet with very low cost. Nobody questions these ''facts'' because science proofed it and/or so we tried it.
If you would tell this to someone 40 years ago, they would not believe you and would label you totally ''crazy''.
Why? Because it would not be part of your ''frame of knowledge'' at that time of history.
If someone told you 100 years ago that you could carry a tiny gadget that has the capacity to store thousands of photos and videos, and enables you to talk to someone on the other side of the world wireless, you would think they are totally crazy, simply because at that time it would not fit in your frame of knowledge.
Today such phones and newer technology are as common as milk and bread.
However today and throughout history most people are afraid to change what they already know, so some people are struggling to be believed and to be heard.

Guglielmo Marconi was an Italian inventor and was able to show to the world the feasibility of radio communication. However he had a hard time being believed that signals could be sent wireless. His colleagues and other scientists said he was ready for the ''looney-house'' and that he was totally crazy. He sent and received his first radio signal in Italy in 1895. By 1899 he flashed the wireless signal across the English Channel.
On June 2nd 1896, Marconi applied for a British Wireless telegraphy patent.
Shortly thereafter he applied for and obtained a patent in the United States. He electrified the world when he succeeded in sending a wireless signal from Newfoundland to Ireland. Believing that radio waves like light rays, on which signals had already been sent, shot out into space when they reached the horizon, some scientists did not believe this claim to have sent a signal across the Atlantic.

Today we all know better.

However Marconi was not the first one to discover the radio waves even though most people think so. We know very little about Nikola Tesla's work in radio. Marconi's real contributions were more engineering and commercial than theoretical. He took the basic ideas and inventions of others and improved upon them and made them practical business successes. Tesla was almost the opposite.

He created original ideas and proved them mathematically and physically, patenting some and not others. Some of his best ideas like the AC induction motor was a commercial success which brought him fame but not riches.
A patent battle between Tesla and Marconi went on for years. Marconi died in 1937, Tesla died in 1943 and six months after his dead the US Supreme Court ruled that all of Marconi's radio patents were invalid and awarded these patents for radio to Tesla. However most people still almost nothing about Tesla's work with radio.

Will we change what we believe?

In the near future The Law of Vibration will be a well known fact for every single person on the planet, just as much as the fact that our earth is round and part of the Milky Way. It will be a part of what kids learn in school, learning how to send ''positive'' thoughts and vibrations as a part of their behavior. I am positive that future generations will learn to understand the Law of Vibration, The Law of Attraction, The Law of Oneness and all the other Universal Laws governing our lives. It will become a second nature to them as long as someone teaches this important knowledge to them at an early age.

We need to believe that anything is possible. We just need to believe it, because believing is seeing.

So believe in The Law of Vibration and that everything is vibrating, absolutely everything. We are all actually living in a sea of Energy.

We live in an ocean of motion

Our thoughts, emotions and actions are on a certain vibrational frequency and hence are part of the Whole vibrating Universe. The Law of Attraction, which is based on The Law of Vibration, states that we attract what we are sending out. So ''positive'' Energies attract ''positive'' Energies and ''negative'' Energies attract ''negative'' Energies.
Our thoughts are cosmic waves of Energy that penetrate all time and space.
Thought is the most potent vibration, so this means you can attract to you what you want and wish for.
There is a thinking stuff from which all things are made. Everything you see on earth is made from one original substance, out of which all things proceed. A ''thinking stuff'' from which all things are made and which in its original state, permeates, penetrates and fills the interspaces of The Universe.

A thought, in this substance, produces the thing that is imaged by thought.
Man can form all things in his thought, and by impressing his thought upon formless substance, can cause the thing he thinks about to be created.

The Law of Attraction and The Law of Vibration go hand in hand.

When you know your thoughts and emotions are vibrating (Law of Vibration) and know you know that ''like attracts like'' (Law of Attraction) you will appreciate that you can now start to alter your life, just by altering your thoughts and emotions.
Unfortunately many of us are ''programmed'' sometimes from childhood to have thoughts and emotions about worry, fear, scarcity and so on.

If you change these patterns of thoughts and feelings, you will be able to attract into your life what you truly want.

Mike Dooley is an author with the bestselling book The Art of Living Your Dream. He is also founder of ''Notes from The Universe'' which are short emails with often humorous reminders about life's magic and your Divinity. In one of his Notes he talks about how we should think of our dreams as they have already happened, which of course is one of the Key Elements of The Law of Attraction, in order to send out the right vibrations (Law of Vibration).

''Just once a day imagine the life you dream of. Believe that it can be yours in this world of magic and miracles. Choose to live as if you know of its inevitable manifestation. Don't compromise, don't worry, don't look for results and as surely as spirit crafts one moment after another, so too it will fuse together the life you know lead with the life of your dreams as if they were two pieces of a jigsaw puzzle, destined to become One,,

So why many people failed at getting what they wish for? Why does The Law of Attraction doesn't work for them?
It does work as long as you send out the right vibrations. The Law of Vibration never fails. Everything vibrates. Experts in the Law of Attraction say that you must do more than just make a wish. Your emotions and feelings must also be aligned with that what you truly wish for. It is not enough to merely ask for it if you do not truly have emotions and feelings that are in harmony with that wish. You need to ''fall in love'' with that what you want in order to be in the correct vibrational state to receive it.

If you ask more money though prayer, meditation or just by wanting it, it will not help you if your emotions and feelings are ''programmed'' to think and believe that money does not grow on trees, or that you don't deserve to be rich etc.

If you grew up in a family where your father or mother (or both) always said: 'do you think I am made out of money, or we can't afford that' than you are most likely ''programmed'' to believe this to be true.

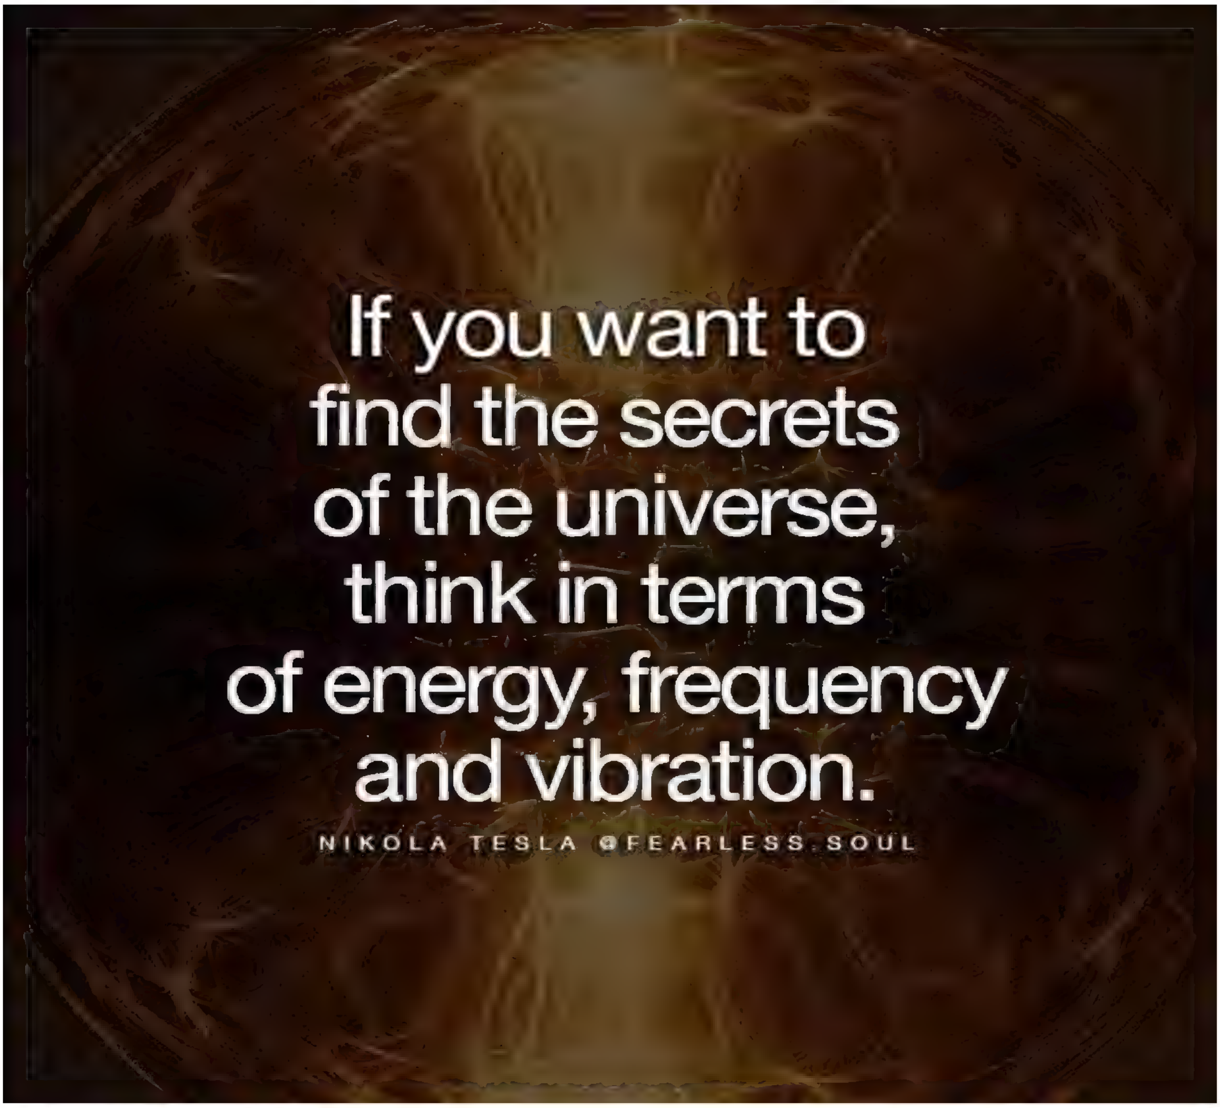
Your subconscious mind has a different belief system than what you are wishing for. So your inner feelings and emotions are not aligned with your wish. These beliefs are much and much stronger than desires and wishes. So if you desire something, like a new house or getting a new job, it will not happen if your beliefs are ''I can't''. The beliefs always win.

We all have built a blueprint in our mind (subconscious) of what we regard as true and what we believe in. This blueprint has been sculpted for years through your childhood by all the people in your life, by what you read, by what you see on TV, by what you learn in school and so on. If suddenly new information is presented to this blueprint, it will not automatically and immediate be added. You can ask for more money every day for several years and nothing will ever manifest as the Law of Attraction preaches, because your subconscious is not aligned with that desire. This is the reason why so many people who tried to change their lives using the Law of Attraction, failed.

In order to change your belief system, you can start applying affirmations.

''Reprogram'' your subconscious mind with a new belief system. Believe that anything is possible, believe that you are rich, that you deserve to be rich, that you are happy, that you are healthy and so on. Make a list of positive affirmations and read them to yourself every day. Say to yourself those things you want to be or want to believe in.

Many people use subliminal messages together with quit music that enhance connection between the right and the left hemisphere of the brain. Embedded in the music are affirmations about good health or financial wealth or happiness and so on. Subliminals have been successful to help many people to change their lives.



‘’The Law of Action,,

The Law of Action must be employed in order for us to manifest several things on earth.

We must engage actions that are aligned with our thoughts and emotions.

The Law of Action states: you must do the things and perform the actions necessary to achieve what you are setting out to do. Unless you take actions that are aligned with your dreams, thoughts and emotions, there will be no foreseeable results. Many people fail at this Law when pursuing success, it could be fear or laziness that gets in the way.

You can also relate this Law to that of the Law of Cause and Effect.

The cause is your action and as you take the action there will always be a corresponding effect, that of which you may know or only the Universe will know the effect, but there always will be an effect. Only by taking actions which correspond with our free will desires and wishes and are aligned with our thoughts and emotions, will the Universe know what to bring into our life. If you wish to learn for example, than take the action steps to learn, read books, study etc. Only then will the Universe know what you are striving for.

When you take a action, from the smallest thing from writing a to-do list in the morning, you set into motions corresponding effects that change your immediate future and if you follow up day after day, it can become a habit way of living and the results will be exponential. But if you fail to take that first action, then there won’t be much in your future for results.

This Law is also called ‘’the forgotten’’ Law, because all the books and audios about the Universal Laws they all seem to talk about positive thinking and visualization, but never talk about the fact that you must act on these thoughts and feelings/emotions. Yes positive affirmations and visualization are important, because everything starts as a thought in your mind, but without action these are merely daydreams. Action along with positive intention is what brings you dreams into life.

Which actions you should take depends on what you want to achieve. If you are looking for love you should start acting out of love and start making room in your life for that special person. If you want to go on a vacation, you should start looking up prices and activities you want to do on your vacation and start saving money. Only you can think of the actions you must take.

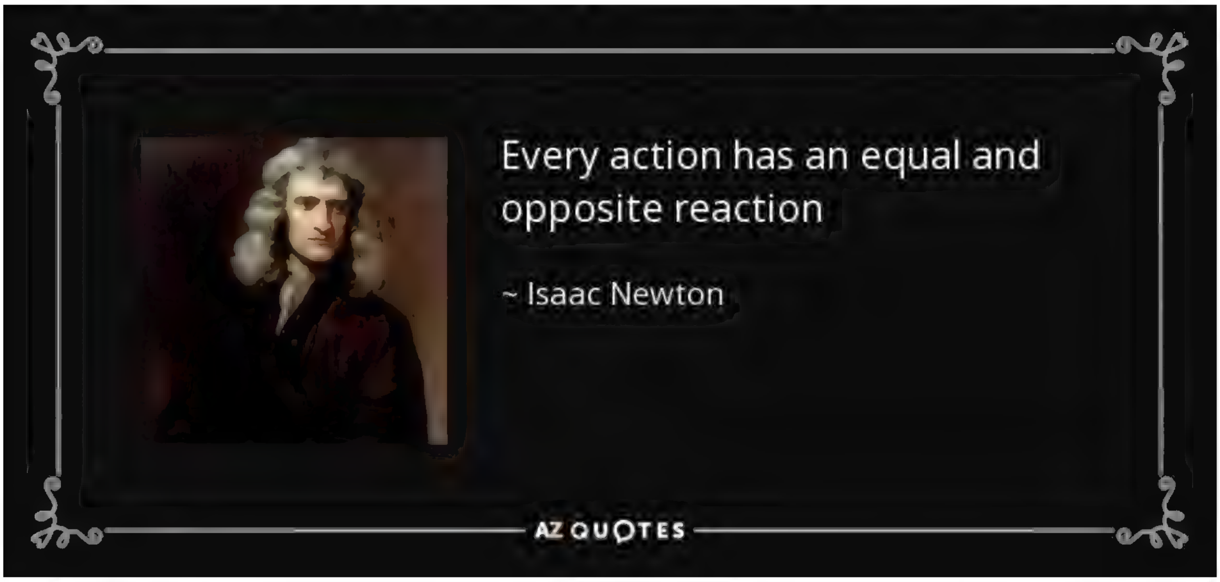
First think about what you want, then visualize it, then make a goal chart and then take the actions necessary. Repeat steps if necessary.

You may not know every action to take to get you to your end result, but if you start moving in the direction of your desires, then the doors will eventually start to open. You must make the first move. If you don't take that first step, you will never take the second and you desires will remain forever in your mind (a good place to start, but not a good place to stay).

So when are you taking the right actions?

You will just know. You will have to have faith and listen to your God consciousness. Not every step will be the right step per se, but every step in the direction of your desires, will get you closer. You may stumble along the way, but if you keep moving forward and continue to take the actions necessary, you will come out on top.

The Law of Action states: you must take action to fulfill your dreams. Take the first step and the rest will unfold as you need it to. Just have faith.



‘’The Law of Correspondence,,

This law states: the principles or Laws of physics that explain the physical world – energy, light, vibration and motion – have their corresponding principles in the Universe.

Most of us have heard the old adage that our outer world is nothing more than a reflection of our inner world. ‘’As within, so without – as above, so below,, This is actually the Law of Correspondence.

The Law of Correspondence basically describes that our current reality is a mirror of what is going on inside us. Our ‘’reality’’ is a result of our inner most dominant thought.

If our life is filled with unhappiness, chaos or is unfulfilling, it is because that’s how we are on the inside at that moment. If we hold negative thoughts internally, then the outer world becomes filled with turmoil and strife.

Ultimately the negativity becomes a self-perpetuating situation.

When we start to feel bad (negative) on the inside, our perception of the outer world starts to look bad (negative). The worse the outer world becomes, the worse we then feel on the inside. For example: I eat because I am unhappy and I am unhappy because I eat. It all ends up having a direct impact on our ‘’reality’’.

How to escape this self perpetuating treadmill?

You have to shift your paradigm. ‘’As within, so without,, To change the outer world we must look in the mirror at ourselves and change the inner man. All self help courses have the foundation of change from the inside out. You can do all things in your power to change the outer world, but if you don’t change your inner world first, you will continue to experience unhappiness, unrest and un-fulfillment etc.

Your ‘’reality’’ will always, always reflect your inner beliefs and world.

So if we want to change the outer world, we must first change our inner world, our thoughts, beliefs and attitudes.

In other words: our current situation is a direct result of the way we think. If we want to shift our paradigm, then we must change the way we think.

Just like the Law of Attraction states: you attract to yourself, what you feel on the inside.

There are many things in life we do not have complete and total control over, but the one thing we do have complete and total control over is our thinking.

So to get w\hat we truly desire in life we must change our thought patterns.

But why is changing our thought patterns such a difficult task?
Because it is easier to point fingers and blame others for our misfortunes.

So we must face it, it is much easier on our egos to blame someone else than it is to accept the responsibility.

This principle embodies the truth that there is always a Correspondence between the Laws and phenomena of the various planes of Being and Life. The grasping of this principle gives one the means of solving many a dark paradox and hidden secret of nature.

There are Planes beyond our knowing, but when we apply the Principle of Correspondence to them, we are able to understand much that would otherwise be unknowable to us.

This Principle is of Universal application and manifestation, on the various Planes of the material, mental and spiritual Universe, it is a Universal Law.

The ancient Hermetists considered this Principle as one of the most important mental instrument by which man was able to pry aside the obstacles which hid from view the Unknown. Its use even tore aside the Veil of Isis to the extent that a glimpse of the face of the Goddess might be caught.

Just as knowledge of the Principles of Geometry enables man to measure distant suns, planets and their movements, while seated in his observatory, so knowledge of the Principle of Correspondence enables man to reason intelligently from the Known to the Unknown. While studying the monad, he understands the archangel.

They key to personal happiness, freedom and peace is to change your thoughts. By focusing exclusively on that what we truly desire and by eliminating all negative thoughts and thoughts about what we don't want, we can begin shape, mould and build our lives to our own specifications.

Here are 3 things you can do:

- Take a hard look at yourself. Take a long and hard look. Look at your career, your relationships, your health and your financial situations. Now let's say your financial situation is not exactly where you want it to be. Ask yourself this question: How are my inner thoughts and attitudes causing this situation in my life?
  For example: What are my beliefs about relationships? And then ask yourself: Where did these thoughts come from? And: Why do I think this way? What is the root cause of the thoughts? You will have to dig deep, but the payoff will be huge and when you are able to finally dissolve these old limiting beliefs, you will start to see your outer world change and reflect your new beliefs of your inner world.
- The next thing you can do is what very few people ever do, but is really important: Take full responsibility for whatever is happening in your life. Most people are more than willing to take responsibility for the good (positive) things in their life, but rarely do they want to take responsibility for the bad (negative) things in their life. So in order to break through, you need to take responsibility for them both. This is really important and you can start with it today.
- Last, but certainly not least, visualize the world that you truly desire and focus your thoughts on this.

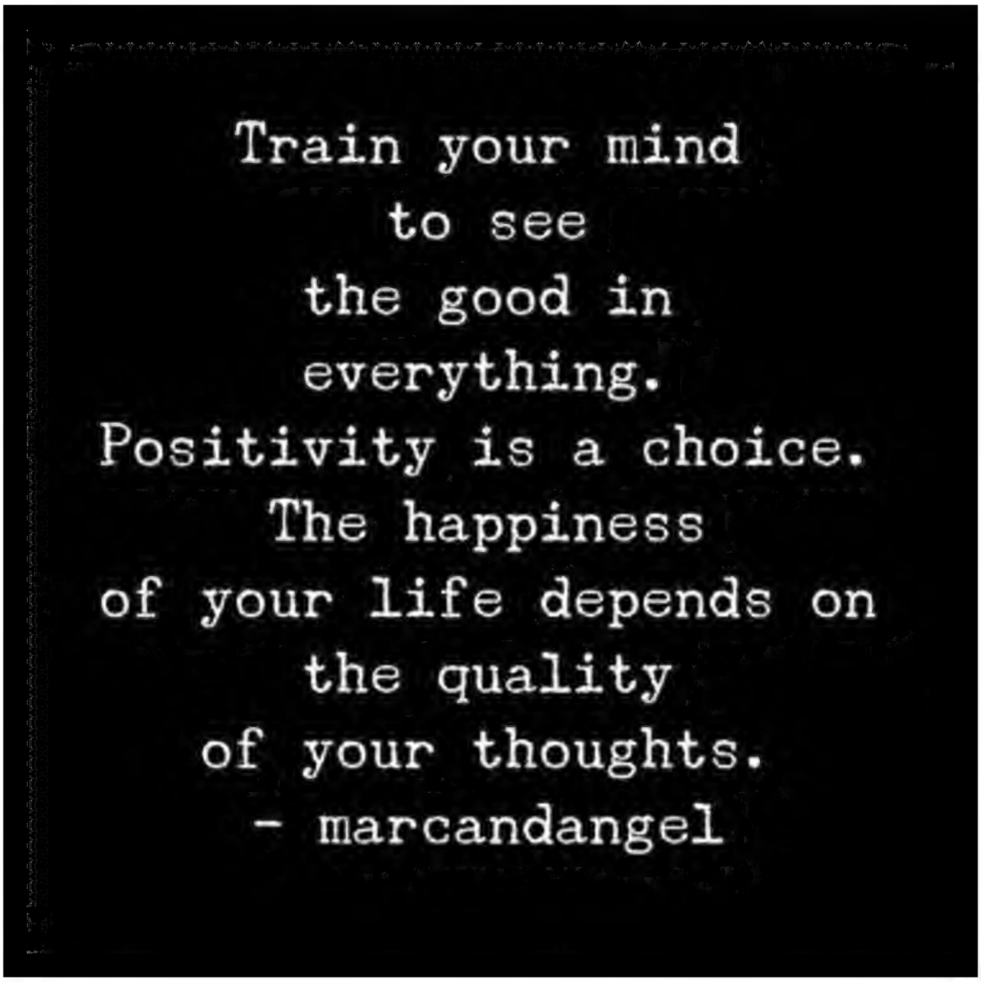
If you want to take control in your life and your circumstances, then you need to understand how the Law of Correspondence works and how to apply it in your life.

If you want positive changes in your life, look inside first.

The bottom line is, by changing the quality of your thoughts, you will change the quality of your life.

‘’There is no mystery in success, it is available to all of us,,



‘’The Law of Cause and Effect,,

Weak people revenge, strong people forgive and intelligent people ignore…

The Law of Cause and Effect is also called as Karma.
A ‘force’ that exists within the universe, to create ‘good’ (positive) and ‘bad’ (negative) thoughts, emotions and situations (actions) for all the different kinds of humans.

This Universal Law of Cause and Effect gives people with ‘good’ karma levels also ‘good’ (positive) thoughts, emotions and situations (actions) and ‘bad’ (negative) ones for the people with ‘bad’ karma levels,

Karma is able to help you grow, but is also able to take you down.

The Universe makes that what needs to happen, happen.

The ‘boomerang’ arrives when it is least expected.

In the Law of Cause and Effect eventually, everybody get what they deserve….

‘’When birds are alive, it eats ants.
When birds are dead, ants eat the bird.*
*It takes one tree to make a thousand light sticks, but it takes one light stick to burn down a whole forest.
Time and circumstances can change very quickly and at any time, so remember, be good and do good.*
Never hurt or devalue anyone in your life,,*

How thoughts and actions influence your levels of karma.

Every thought and/or emotion you hold onto and/or action you take is very powerful and will always make some difference into the world (reality), universe and/or society. This must never be underestimated and is very important to remember.

These 3 will also determine how high your 'good' and 'bad' karma levers are.

Every thought, emotion and action carries energy that is like an 'echo' to the universe.

"The mind is a powerful force.
It can enslave or empower us.
*It can plunge us into the depths of misery or take us to the heights of ecstasy, learn to use its power wisely,,

Thoughts start the 'echo', emotions amplify it and actions increase its momentum.

Life is an echo
What you send out, comes back.
What you sow, you reap.
What you give, you'll get.
What you see in others, is in you.
Judge others and you will be judged.
Radiate and give love and love will come back to you.

*’Your attitude affects your thinking, which in turn affects your emotions, which in turn affects your actions,,

The importance of focusing on only the ‘good’ and ‘positive’.

Participate in every ‘good’ act you come across or can do.
Hold on to only ‘positive’ thoughts and focus only on the ‘positive’ things,

Any ‘negative’ thoughts you hold onto and/or ‘bad’ actions you take with the intention ‘bad’, will eventually get back up on you and give you ‘bad’ karma.

Just like an (indirect) ‘cause’ -> ‘effect’.

‘’You are free to choose, but you are not free from the consequence(s) of your choice.
A Universal Paradox,,

Think twice before you speak and/or act.
Always be fully aware, live in the moment and take full responsibility for anything in your life.

Have control over your own thoughts, emotions and actions.

Let go of any ‘negative’ thought, and/or action on anyone and/or anything in the outside world.

Let go of things you can’t change anything about. When someone mistreats you have trust that the Universe eventually will deal with the shitty person.
In some way I strongly believe that if someone needs teaching he/she sooner or later will come up against him/herself.

What are your levels of karma?

Ask yourself the following question:

'Are you afraid to die and to leave this world?'

If your answer is yes, you probably did too much 'bad' things with 'bad; intentions and you have too much regrets in life. At this moment you are not in peace with yourself. Now you know what to do, change is the only constant anyway so….

''Your best teacher is your last mistake…

Soul, Mind or Spirit in the Afterlife

Why and how does it work that way?
I am convinced that when you die you take your Soul, Mind or Spirit or whatever you want to call it, with you wherever you may go.

So try to create as less 'bad' karma as possible for yourself and try to focus on always getting only the 'good' and the 'positive' in life.

Whenever the intention is 'bad', it creates 'bad' karma.
Is the intention ''good,, it creates 'good, karma.
Whenever there is no intention, there is also no karma.

Sooner or later we all will go back to the source code we came from (die) and when that happens, it is very important to have as less 'regrets' and as less 'bad' karma as possible.

Two things define you:
- your patience when you have ~~nothing~~
- your attitude when you have ~~everything~~

If this all still sounds a bit mysterious and/or vague to you, let me tell you a short story about a farmer, to give you a bit of an idea on how karma can operate and the way it balances and/or can take form in life.

Once upon a time…

There was a farmer whose horse ran away.
The neighbor visited the farmer when he heard about the news and he said to the farmer: ‘damm are you fucked, ain’t you?’
‘Maybe’ answered the farmer.
The next day the lost horse returned with seven other wild horses.
The neighbor again visited the farmer when he heard about the news and said to the farmer: ‘damm are you lucky, ain’t you?’
‘Maybe’ answered the farmer again.
The following day the farmer is trying to catch one of the wild horses and while doing that, he slips and breaks his own leg.
The neighbor for the third time visited the farmer when he heard about the news and said to the farmer: ‘damm are you fucked, ain’t you?
‘Maybe’ answered the farmer for the third time.
Another day later, the army visited the village with a conscription for all healthy residents from the village..
While the neighbor and almost half the village are forced to fight at the side of the army, the farmer isn’t because of his broken leg.
The farmer is allowed to stay at home and isn’t forced to leave the village to fight for the army.
After the neighbor packed everything up to leave the village, he for the last time visited the farmer and said to him: ‘damm are you lucky again, ain’t you?’
Than the farmer looked at him, smiled and answered for the last time: ‘maybe’.

So what can we learn from the story above?

Situations in life are not always as ‘bad’ as they at first instance seem.
The best thing you can do is to have trust in the Laws of the Universe and in the laws of nature, because no matter how many branches you cut off a tree, it will still keep standing straight.
Comparing a human being and a tree may seem a bit idiotic at first, but it absolutely is not.
The only differences between a human being and a tree are the mind, emotions and the free will.

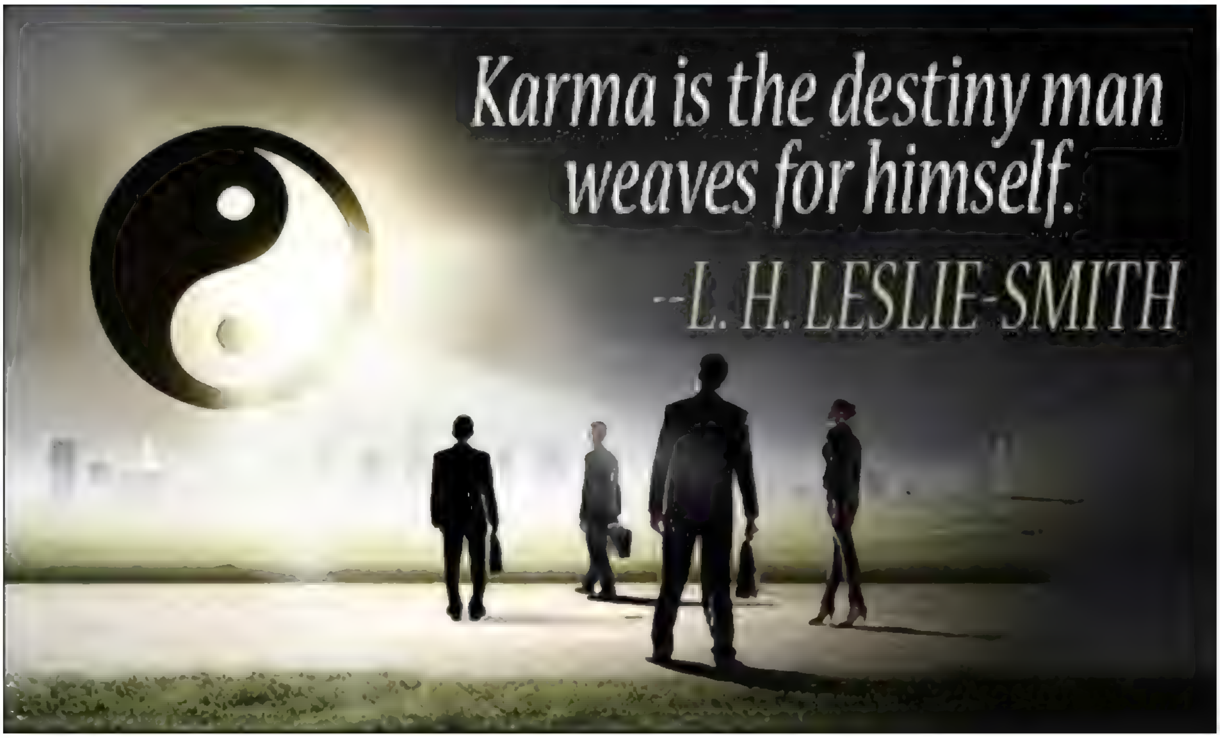
Both are alive and both are bound to and protected by the laws of the Universe.

No matter how much you are trying to influence the processes of the Universe, it will always do what is has to do and in the end will always succeed.

None of the universal laws can be broken.

Have trust and eventually everything will fall into place.

''It all begins and ends in your mind,
what you give power to, has power over you,
if you allow it,,



‘’The Law of Compensation,,

This Law is the Law of Cause and Effect applied to blessings and abundance that are provided for all of us. The visible effects of our deeds are given to us in gifts, money, inheritances, friendships, ideas and/or blessings.

Most people are compensated by a paycheck when they go to their job. It is a value system in place that is agreed upon. You do your job and in return you get money. In terms of The Universal Laws, there are some similarities, but also some profound differences.
This law states: ‘’you get back what you give to other’’. ‘’You have to sow, before you can reap’’. When people are feeling miserable they tend to complain a lot and that often brings those around them down. They may start to get also pulled in (down) and they also start to complain and feel angry (negative). Before you know it, you now have a couple of angry people, who then ‘’infect’’ others by feeding and spreading off this negative energy that they are passing back and forth.

On the other hand not only misery loves company, but joy does too. When someone smiles at you, your energy shifts immediately, you are inclined to smile back and/or say hello. Positive acknowledgment can also become infectious as well.

When working with The Law of Compensation, we want to give out that what we wish to receive. Everybody prefers happy and positive people instead of grumpy and negative ones, so the best way to ensure that most of the people we attract are positive, is to become more positive and happy ourselves.

Smile to people, say hello, and pay compliments (that are sincere) and you will notice that you will not only feel better (and more happy) as a person, but that those around you will respond kind and even those who don’t, won’t bother you nearly as much.

‘’Everything that irritates us about others, can lead us to an understanding of ourselves,,

Be what you want to see.

Gandhi once said: ‘’We must be the change, we wish to see in the world,,

Don’t cry and complain about all that’s wrong, but fix yourself and the world and your perceptions of other will eventually change. You will become inclined to see the good in yourself and others.

‘’You reap what you sow,,

We live in a society that promotes blaming others over personal responsibility and the results tends to be a lot of people who feel chronically victimized and not empowered to change their own destiny. Some might even argue that there are powers in place that like keeping people feeling this way. It is easier to control people who feel that life is a series of random events that happen to you that you have no control over.

Give what you have, be what you want to see and those things will come back to you. You don’t have to hand out all your money, but you should be generous in whatever ways are within your means. Be charitable, get involved and do things in meaningful ways.

When we are generous and proactive it allows more abundance and positive opportunities to flow into our lives. When we are stingy and afraid of losing all and everything, we tend to attract more debt and hardship because that is where we are directing our Energy.

Those who sit down complain and does nothing become a part of the problems in society instead of the solutions. Innovators are always the people who put themselves out there, who are willing to take chances and be who they are no matter what.

You have to consciously and as often as possible be what you want to experience. It sounds simple but is very complex to understand and to implement on a deeply spiritual level.

It is very easy to see what we don't like and to get stuck on that. We all do it. I personally have a really strong distaste for those who are unfair to others. I hate it when people take unfair advantage of people for their own gains. It bothers me immensely. I could spend all my time focused on that and it would probably make me feel very angry and disempowered.

After all, one only needs to watch the news for 5 minutes to see how others take advantage of and mistreat other people. I could subsequently complain for hours about how horrible it is, but what does this solve? Instead of being "anti-war", promote peace through education and being a living example. Instead of complaining about people being blind and ignorant to corruption; work to enlighten them in a non-angry, non-confrontational way and they will be more receptive.

I am one person, I can't change the whole of humanity, but I can be an instrument of fairness and peace in my own life and for those around me. I love to write and I use the power of my words to help people think in new ways and approach their own lives from a more empowered view. What positive gifts can you give to others?

I change my attitude and my outlook on humanity by not overindulging the negativity to the point of toxicity. This does NOT mean bury one's head in the sand. I approach my activism by being what I want to bring - instead of "anti". "Anti" = "Angry"; "Pro" = "Positive Reinforcement". Recognize challenges in the world, because it is important to be connected and to be involved, but then and always be proactive in the best and most positive way you can.

Remember! Even the largest fire begins with a single spark!

Since achieving this empowered mindset some time ago, I have become a much more forgiving, honest and happy person. I feel a sense of peace and positivity that permeates my being, even in challenging times. Do I still get mad when I see injustices in the world – of course! I'm human.

Anger is a natural emotion – it's what you do with that anger that determines if it has value or if it is toxic. Anger, turned into positive actions, benefits the world. Anger, when left to fester becomes a poison that engulfs the person and those around them whom it infects.

When we consciously choose the emotions and subsequent actions we engage in; when we approach life from a proactive perspective, in our darker hours, people will return that Energy. I have always been able to find support when I needed it, because those who know me know that I am someone they can count on as well.

I work daily to manifest positive Energy in my own life and in the lives of those around me. Cynicism is easy – positivity takes effort. Some days it costs much Energy, but it makes life so much better overall.

Universal Laws and Personal Power

There is so much depth in Universal laws that really have to be experienced to be fully integrated and understood. Many people buy into the hype of "conjuring" and mass-produced "law of attraction" books and programs, without the effort to change themselves or their view of the world or how they approach daily life.

Universal laws are not quick fixes, they are deeply philosophical rules for living that require effort and dedication to fully integrate, but once they "click" and you ''understand'' you can see the results in profound ways, it is truly life-altering.

‘’The Law of Attraction,,

The cosmic Law of Attraction (LofA) is one of the most known Universal Laws of all. There are different views on how many governing Laws there are in existence, but all agree that the LofA is one of them.

This Law states: like attracts like.

There are many books written about the LofA and a search on Google will get you many hits.

The LofA is by far one of the most known Laws of all Universal Laws.

Back in 1986 Esther and her husband Jerry Hicks came into contact with non-physical entities called Abraham. Abraham is a group of evolved teachers from ‘’the other side’’ and they spoke through Esther. Esther and Jerry have published a lot of books, DVD’s, articles etc. about the information Esther received from Abraham. This is referred to: the teaching of Abraham.

The cosmic Law of Attraction is an ancient Universal Law that was brought to light (among other things) from Abraham through Esther Hicks.

Esther Hicks was part of the bestselling book and DVD ‘’The Secret’’ when it was released by Rhonda Byrne in 2006. The book and DVD received a lot of attention worldwide. The media also picked it up and the cosmic Law of Attraction became a very well known Universal Law. The people behind this movie were featured on popular talk shows like Oprah and Larry King, raising interest even higher.

Esther Hicks was also a narrator and star of the original version of the film ‘’The Secret’’. However the footage featuring Hicks was later removed from the extended edition after a conflict between Hicks and the films creator Rhonda Byrne. The conflict is reported as being primarily about the intellectual property rights and money. After the release of The Secret, the book: Law of Attraction: the basics of the teachings of Abraham, by Esther Hicks and Jerry Hicks made the New York Times best sellers list, drawing even more attention and interest to this topic.

The cosmic Law of Attraction insists that all things similar in nature will naturally gravitate to one another and magnetize one another into their own field.

This applies to all and everything in the Universe. So it also applies to thought. Thought is Energy and it is magnetic to those things with a similar vibration.

Like attracts like, so you attract to you what you think about and what you feel strongly about. However after the book and the movie ''The Secret'' came out scientists disputed that the cosmic Law of Attraction works, they said like attracts not like because if you take 2 positive magnets towards each other they will repel, not attract. So how can this be explained?

Rather than using the term cosmic Law of Attraction we could use the term the Law of Resonance. In order to understand this, it's important to first understand the Law of Vibration which states that everything in the Universe vibrates. Everything is made up of Energy and everything has its own vibrational frequency.

If you want to attract something you need to be at the same vibrational frequency as that/what what you want. The Law of Resonance states: anything that is on the same vibrational frequency makes itself known to each other, because they vibrate on the same frequency. When we send out signals on a certain frequency through are thoughts and emotions, the Universe respond to us with anything and everything that resonated with that frequency.

So we should learn to resonate with what we want instead of resonating with what we are doubtful of, fearful of and so on.

When we do that our thoughts and emotions become things.

You reap what you sow.

Thought+emotions=Attraction

This simple formula is really important for us to understand.

One of the most successful actors in recent years is Will Smith. He shares with us his beliefs in the power we all have and what we can really be or do what we want. He talks about the power of our thoughts and about the fact that anything is possible. He believes that you can create whatever you really want to create, which is the essence of the Law of Attraction.

You attract to yourself that which you are in vibrational harmony with, not only that which you long for or even deserve. A positive mental attitude attracts positive experiences and circumstances while a negative mental attitude attracts those conditions that we deem negative or unwanted.

You can attract anything you need. To need something is to have a purpose for it and when that something has a big enough purpose, it becomes a necessity rather than a luxury. You are already connected to all, everything and everyone seen and unseen. Nothing and nobody is separated from you. The sense of separation we experience in the physical world is created by the way our 5 senses and our consciousness interpret this infinite sea of vibrating Energy.

You are One with the One Universal Mind from which all things become manifest.

Creative visualization is the basic technique by which you can positively and effectively ''reprogram'' your subconscious mind and so to begin to attract to yourself those things and circumstances that you need and that you consciously choose.

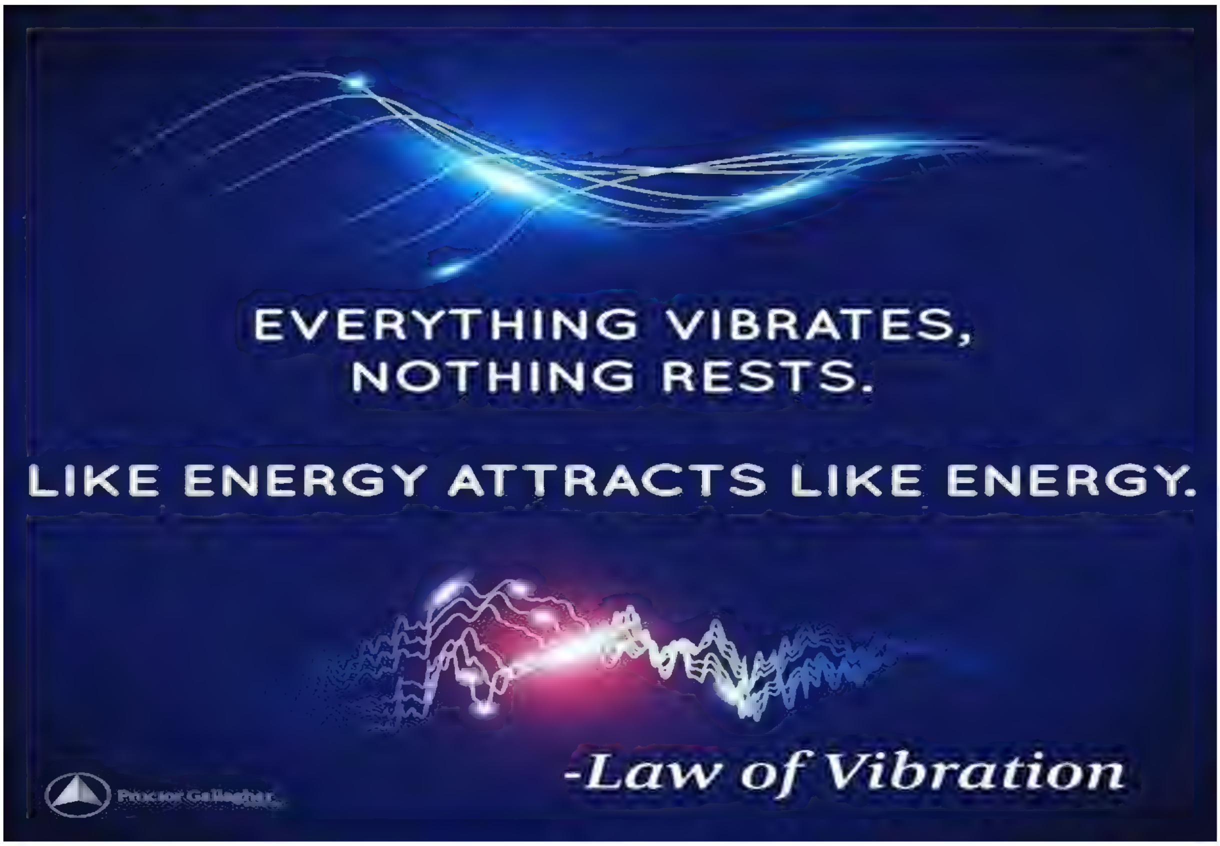
Don't blame anything or anyone in your life for any circumstances and know that by taking full responsibility for your life, you also grant the power to change it.

There is no judgment call involved about whether a particular thought is ''good'' or ''bad'' or whether it is ''deserved'' or ''undeserved''. The Law of Attraction is neutral, it does not punish or reward. It simply serves to bring like Energy together. Think more of it as a matchmaker, you submit your criteria via your habitual thoughts and beliefs and it brings to you your perfect vibratory match, every time.

Don't make your primary goal to figure it all out, instead adjust your mental attitude by changing your most dominant thoughts and beliefs while creating a need or purpose for that which you want to create in your life. Don't master the Law, but master your Mind.

By understanding all of the known Universal Laws, you will be able to understand the true nature of reality and how you can experience the life you intend.

So to experience profound transformation in any area of your life, you must first become conscious of the truth that the circumstances of your outside world correspond precisely with the nature of your inner world and are attracted to you by the Law of Attraction. Like Energy attracts like Energy. You don't need to learn to apply it or work with it because it always does what is does whether you understand it or not. To attract anything you intend in your life, you must learn to bring your thoughts and your emotions into vibrational harmony with the essence of your choice and leave the rest up to the Law of Attraction. All you need to do is work on yourself.



‘’The Law of Perpetual Transmutation of Energy,,

This Law states: everything moves into physical form.

Energy is in a constant state of transmission and transmutation. It is the cause and effect of itself and can be neither created nor destroyed.

Everything in the Universe that we can see, hear, smell, taste or touch, together with our emotions, is the manifestation of Energy in various levels of vibration. The Universe in its whole and in its parts has its existence in an ocean of motion. Motion is the only thing that is constant. Change is Energies only attribute and because of it, comes all that is apparent to our material senses.

We can harness this Energy and transform it into whatever form we desire, we should then realize that the Energy that is with us at the moment can be focused toward good (positive) and then the things around us and within us will change for the better. The Energy is flowing into our consciousness constantly; we transform this Energy into whatever we choose through our focus and/or attention at the moment.

This law states: the non-physical of life is always moving into physical form and that the physical level of life is the manifestation of the non-physical.

Thoughts build ideas in your conscious mind. These ideas are impressed upon the subconscious mind and stir emotions. Emotions are expressed with and through the body and mind. The body is moved into action which produces results.

So to change your results, you must change your thinking. Thinking is the starting point in the process where thoughts become things.

We are a thinking substance and thinking substances always takes the form of that which it thinks about.

Choose thoughts of prosperity and abundance (positivity), if you want a happy and/or rich (positive) life.

When people say: ''I like things just the way they are'', they are just advertising their ignorance to this important Law. We must see that we are either growing or dying. Everything is always changing, so never resist the change.

Resisting change=resisting growing

Those who resist growing, will go backwards and this will prevent the learning and continual improvement and growth with the Universe and so with ourselves.

Use this Law for your benefit in the way of shaping the formless that is flowing to and through you at all times into ''good causes''.

Continue to improve all aspects of your life and continual grow with the changing times.

This Law does not judge your thoughts it will simply act upon them.

This Law is the strongest when our thoughts are consistent. Whatever important you spend your time thinking about, will eventually appear into physical form. We have millions of thoughts a day so it is impossible for all thoughts to be transmuted into physical form. It will discard the thoughts that are not important or random or thoughts that are not aligned with our beliefs. It responds to the most dominant thoughts in our minds. The thoughts our mind constitutes to be important are those thoughts that are consistent. So if you are not happy with what you are manifesting, then it is up to you to change your most dominant thoughts to those things that you do want and not to the things that you don't want.

Here are some things you can do to change your thoughts and beliefs:

- Repeating positive affirmations
- Using visualization techniques
- Creating a vision board
- Reading inspirational quotes
- Read positive books
- Listen to positive music
- Act as if you already have that which you desire
- Be grateful for the things in life

It is up to you to make sure your thoughts are producing the results you desire.

‘’The Law of Relativity,,

The Law of Relativity states: nothing is good or bad, big or small, until you RELATE it to something.

Everything in our physical world is only made real by its relationship or comparison to something. Light only exists because we compare it with dark. Good only exists because we compare it to bad. Hot only exists because we compare it to cold.

If you practice relating your situation to something much worse then yours will be much better, it then will always look good.

All things are always relative. If you are a low income earner and you compare yourself to a millionaire your economic situation would not look good, but if you compare yourself to a poor boy in Africa, your situation would be one of abundance. There is neither big nor small, fast nor slow except by comparison. Everything just IS.

What we choose to compare things and/or situations to will determine if we perceive it as good (positive) or bad (negative).

Everything in life just IS and it is us who decide what value we put on it. If you own a 5 year old car and you compare it to a brand new Ferrari, yours would look worse, but if you compare it to a 20 year old run down car, yours would look good.

When you relate something you do that you are not proficient at, to something another person does that they have mastered, you will not look good. Then you are using the Law against yourself.

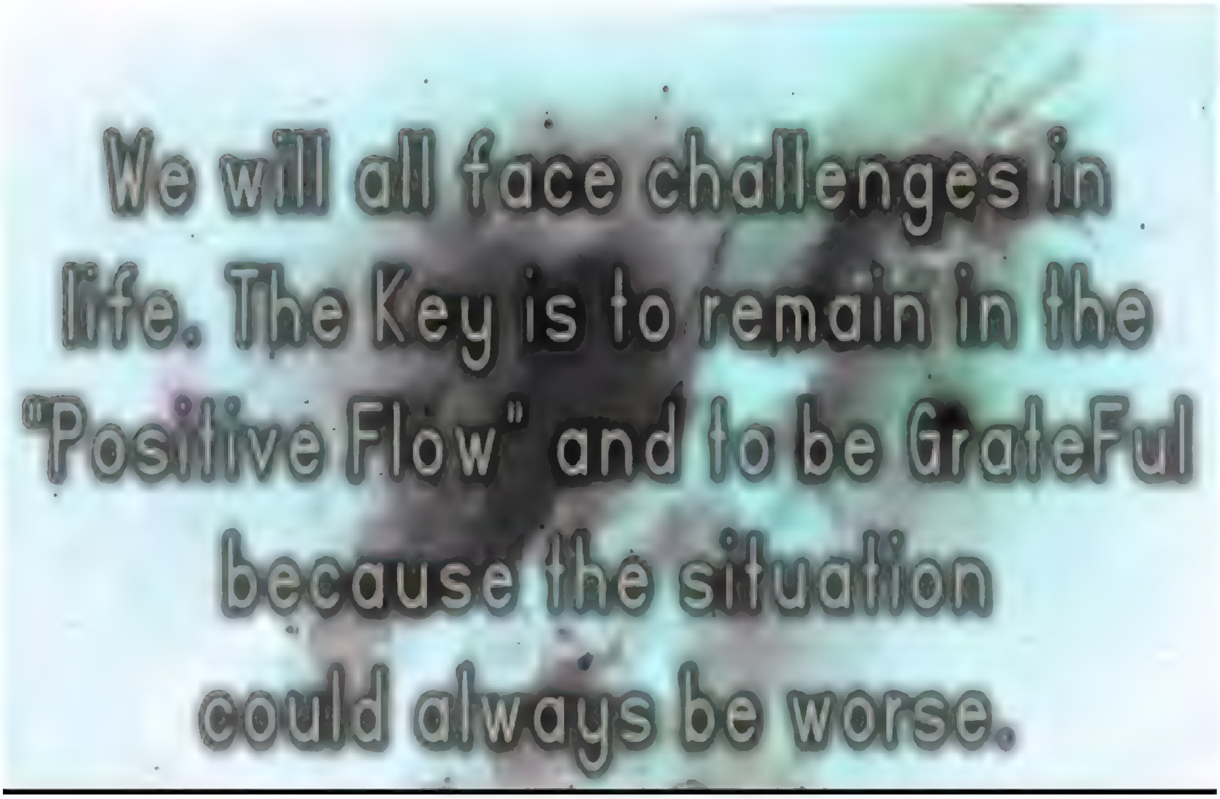
Begin using the Law to heighten your self esteem, you will then become aware of how special you are in the light of Truth.

Whenever the Law is properly used, you will always win.

All things are relative, we are the ones that make it what is.

As such you can choose to use this Law in your favor. Use it to make yourself look good. Relate yourself to people or situations that will make you look good.

Nothing in life has any meaning, except for the meaning that we give it so make sure to use the Law of Relativity in your favor.



‘’The Law of Polarity,,

The Law of Polarity states: everything has an opposite: up-down, hot-cold, good-bad etc.

Everything in the Universe has an opposite, which is equal and opposite. If it was 5 feet from the floor up on the table, it would be 5 feet from the table down to the floor. If it is 150 miles from London to Manchester, it would be 150 miles from Manchester to London.

If something you considered bad happens in your life, there has to be something good about is. If it only was a little bad, when you mentally work your way around to the other side, you will find it will only be a little good, it is a world of duality.

These opposites are simply different manifestations of the same thing.

In any situation there must be an opposite, you just have to look for it.

The same goes for people, constantly look for the good in people, when you find it compliment this person. People love compliments and the positive idea in your mind and the positive action makes you feel good.

A good idea equals a good vibration.

"Everything is Dual; everything has poles; everything has its pair of opposites; like and unlike are the same; opposites are identical in nature, but different in degree; extremes meet; all truths are but half-truths; all paradoxes may be reconciled."-- The Kybalion.

Everything can be separated in into two wholly opposite parts and each of those still contains the potentiality of the other. Particles have the potentiality of waves, waves have the potentiality of particles, white has black and black has white, low exists with high, slow is also fast and the same holds true for elation and depression, infatuation and resentment, kindness and cruelty, generosity and stinginess and so on..

‘’No matter what good you do, it’s always evil for someone„

No event is solely beautiful or solely tragic, it is impossible to have one without the other.

Now let’s take this one level deeper.

It has been observed in laboratories that when you collide a positron (e+) (a positively charged electron.. and also the electron’s anti-particle) with an electron (e-) (a negatively charged particle) there is an explosion. Both are annihilated and out of that annihilation, gamma-rays photons are created. LIGHT is created and Light at higher Energies for that matter.

So when positive and negative come together, they birth Light (metaphor for love).

So when you take a negative emotion or thought in your life and see the equal and opposite, positive emotion or thought that coexists with it, the emotion you are experiencing in annihilated and out of that births Light (Love).

So when you feel sad, depressed, negative etc. about a situation or experience in life, write down the positive outcomes from that situation. Ask yourself: what is it about this situation that I could be happy about? Write down those things.

For every reason you feel sad about, there is going to be a reason to also be happy.

When you are able to view life from this perspective, both life and your emotions become more balanced.

When you acknowledge that one-sidedness is merely an illusion and not actual truth, it opens the doorway to seeing the rest of the world for what it truly is. A completely balanced system that is fully equilibrated because of the Divine Order that exists in it.

Nothing is one-sided: everything contains it’s opposite.

Isaac Newton revealed: any action has an equal and opposite reaction, forces come in pairs.

The purpose of the Universe is equilibrium and synchronicity.

The Universe is both a Creator and a Destroyer.

Destruction begets Creation and Creation ultimately begets Destruction and so on..

‘’The Adept (Master) sees both Destruction and Creation taking place simultaneously, He sees truth,, Mastery of the Law of Polarity requires learning how to maintain balance, focus and detachment from the distractions of the material world.

‘’The Law of Rhythm,,

Everything is moving to and from, flowing in and out, swinging forward and backward. There is a high and a low tide. Everything is flowing both in and out, in accordance with this Law.

There is always a reaction to every action. Something must advance when something or anything retreats, something must rise when something or anything sinks. People can observe this Law in their mental, physical and emotional states.

The Law of Rhythm is Universal (just like the other laws), so it can be observed in the rising and setting of the sun and moon, ebb and flow of the tides, coming and going of the seasons and in the rhythm swing of consciousness and unconsciousness.

‘’One can never feel good all the time no one does, because if you did you wouldn’t even notice that you feel good. The low feelings are what permit you to enjoy the high feelings,,

‘’Only if one have been in the deepest valley, can one ever know how magnificent it is to be on the highest mountain,,

We always still have the ability to choose our own thoughts, because we all are born with free will. Even when you are on a natural ‘’down swing’’, you can choose positive thoughts and continue to move up toward your goal.

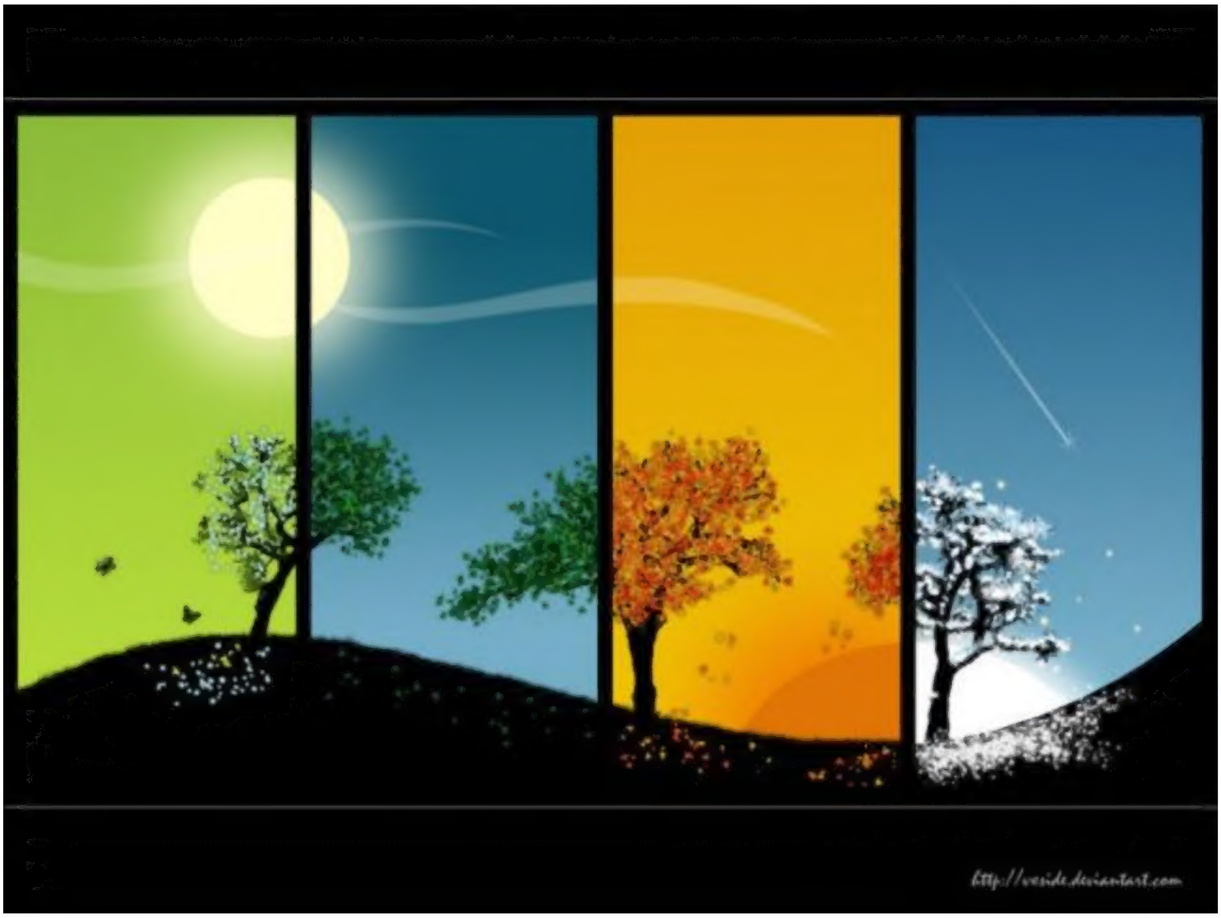
Energy in the Universe is like a pendulum. Whenever something swings to the right, it must then swing to the left. Everything in existence is involved in a ‘’dance’’, swaying, flowing and swinging back and forth (or up and down).

Everything goes through cycles, yet everything has a rhythm or a pattern. What seems to be random is actually very orderly. The Law of Rhythm also governs our economy, health, relationships and spirituality. When you are at a peak potential with your health and you realize you are at the peak, then you can foresee your health dropping some. However instead of viewing this ‘’drop of health’’ as something wrong, you now view it as a sign to rest your body. Then by law, you have to grow to a better and higher state of potential.

Masters know how to rise above ''negative'' parts of a cycle by never getting too excited and/or allowing negative things to penetrate their consciousness.

The key to success in mastering this Law is in: balance.

Never allow your emotions to swing too far to the left or right (or up and down), always choose positive thoughts over negative ones and always try to look at the bright side of situations.



’’The Law of Gender„

Gender is manifested in everything. Gender is manifested as the Masculine and Feminine principles and manifests itself on all planes.

Mental gender is described as a Hermetic concept which relates to the Masculine and Feminine principles. It does not refer to the physical gender of one, nor does it suggest that one of a certain physical gender necessarily has the same mental gender. Ideally, one wants to have a balanced mental gender.

Gender exists on all planes of existence (physical, mental and spiritual) and represents different aspects on all different planes. It also states that everything and everyone contains these two elements or principles.

The Masculine principle is always in the direction of giving out or expressing and contents itself with the ‘’Will’’ in its varied phrases.

The Feminine principle is always in the direction of receiving impressions and has a much more varied field of operation than the Masculine. The Feminine also conducts the work of generating new thoughts, concepts and ideas, including the work of imagination.

There must be balance in these two forces. Without the Feminine, the Masculine is apt to act without restraint, order or reason, resulting in chaos. The Feminine alone on the other hand, is apt to constantly reflect and fail to actually do anything, resulting in stagnation.

With both the Feminine and the Masculine working on conjunction, there is thoughtful action that breeds success, which point out that both Feminine and Masculine fulfill each other.

There is not one aspect of life where the Feminine and Masculine principles are not at work.

On the physical plane the Feminine and Masculine principles manifests as sex, on the higher planes it takes higher forms, but the principle is always the same.

It is impossible for creation to take place without this Law. Everything has a Ying and a Yang.

On the physical plane each person has a male or female physical body, however psychologically each person is androgynous with male and female qualities. Each person has a left and a right brain.

The path to God is the path of balancing the Masculine and Feminine principles within self.

Find proper balance between heavenly and earthly aspects within self and find proper balance between the soul and the ego. This is done by transcending negative ego and so keeping the ego in check. You want to keep the ego in proper balance and relationship to the soul.

Let the ego take care of the physical body, but not to a point that it fully interprets your life.

The closer you move towards mastery, the more likely you will achieve this balanced state.

When you have achieved mastery, balance become more habitual and won't take as much work, time and energy to try and stay in balance, you will just be.

The only way to achieve mastery is by knowing yourself and understanding all of the Universal Laws that are governing our lives.

To know God, we must understand God's Laws.
